Saying No to Death to Say Yes to Life

Before yesterday's Confirmands (A WONderful group, by the way, who blessed us hugely!), affirmed their faith and said a strong yes to continuing their life partnership with God, they said a firm NO to evil and all the forces that work against life and draw us away from God.

So here's the thing: On your behalf, Faith Lutheran folk and friends, I daily say no to a few things and yes to some others. Basically, I pray our NO to death and darkness and all their powers and our YES to resurrection life in Christ. This Easter season, I think you should know and consider owning this prayer for yourself and those you love.

I'll admit, it's a little odd. This prayer gives weight to spiritual things rarely acknowledged in our current culture. Because it grew from work to heal damage from some particular bad people and spirits, it uses language that may seem strange or superstitious. Mostly, I just take it for what it is: a thorough NO to all things bad for us, and a heartfelt YES to all God's good. Here you go:

A Prayer of Cleansing and Invitation

Holy One, YHWH, God of All, we are yours and yours alone from before the beginning till after the end. And when I say we, I mean... (name my loved ones, best friends, folks in trouble, our church and its leaders by name, and members of any small groups I'm in).

Since we are yours and yours alone, in your beautiful name I bind and rebuke any spiritual garbage that may be present in our persons, possessions, property, pets, or anything at all that is ours. I ask that you would please send your strong and tender warrior angels to find and contain all unclean spirits of any sort in sight, sound, and smell proof (spiritual garbage stinks!), thought, word and deed proof, harm and escape proof containers, deaf, dumb and blind, stripped of all power and authority, weapons, illusions and armor. If it's safe to do so, please now send it off to my friend Steve's parking lot (I really do have a friend who keeps a safe 'parking lot' for this purpose) to remain until dismissed. And if it's not safe to ship it out today, please shrink it down to the size of a particle of an atom and put it where it can't cause harm. Thank you!

Dear Holy One, please break any attachments in our lives that aren't serving your purpose today—any connections at all that are causing harm or being used to control or deceive, whether initiated by us or by others, on purpose or not. Please break them off and bend them around to dump any spiritual garbage into Steve's parking lot, or if necessary, return it as directly as possible to its true source and origin with notice that we're not playing these games anymore, so if you use it, you lose it or it will bounce back. We hope you don't use it at all. (This for the particular people I know of, but maybe for anybody messing with our hearts and minds.)

In your Holy Name, dear God, I also declare null and void any thoughts, words, or deeds that have come against me and all for whom I pray that are not serving your intentions in our lives. Whether they came from us or from others, on purpose or not, any thoughts, words, or deeds that do not serve your purposes for us are broken. We will live under their power and authority no longer. Any spiritual garbage attached to us through these things (think anxiety, depression, anger, shame, belief that we are incompetent or never enough) please remove to (you guessed it) Steve's parking lot to remain until dismissed.

And now, Holy God, please surround me and all for whom I pray with your perimeter of protection today, so that we can live and work in privacy and without interference. Let it be sight, sound and smell proof, proof against thought, word, deed, harm, or any kind of ill will. In fact, let this perimeter be the name and character of the risen Christ—let nothing come into our lives except what is of you. Thank you!

Please fill me and all for whom I pray with the presence of your Holy Spirit. Allow us the fullest possible measure of your healing, guidance, and the gifts of love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, generosity, faithfulness, and self-control. Let your love drive out all fear, so that in union with all creation we might sing your praise and your love in our lives.

Thank you, Dearest God, for hearing my prayer and the prayers of all your people. Yes. May it be so! Amen.
* * *

As I pray this prayer, I've become more aware of what is spiritual good and what is spiritual garbage, more aware of my mood and its nature. I'm more aware of the attachments or connections (relationships and desires) in my life, and I try to offer them all to God. I'm MUCH more aware of words, and less likely to give or receive words that dim and discourage, of content or tone that doesn't seem to match what God would offer. I hope I'm a little more likely to go to God with concerns during the day, to seek protection and support from God's presence.

So friends, I'd like to keep praying for you even after I cease being your pastor. Because I hope you'll more and more say NO to death and the dark and YES to God's life and light. Blessed Easter! Christ is Risen!

ADULT Spirituality RETREAT

with Dr. Mark Allen Powell

Flathead Lutheran Bible Camp

April 15-17 (Sunday dinner-Tuesday lunch)

$205 total or $95/day

Bible scholars often come up with very different ideas regarding well-known passages, insisting we've missed the point for centuries. Sometimes this can be very troubling; other times, it might be refreshing. Sometimes a story that really bothers us turns out to be more meaningful than we imagined; other times a teacher "ruins" one of our favorites. At this retreat, Dr. Powell will take five well-known passages from the Gospels and do some old-fashioned Bible study, exploring the passages and paying careful attention to key details—with a "twist"—in each case, we'll consider why some interpreters think the traditional understanding is wrong and propose a new reading.

All this in the beauty of creation at Flathead Lake, sustained by amazing meals and sweet companionship. Celeste Pogachar and Deb Cathey welcome you to join them!

Retreat begins on Sunday at 6:15pm for dinner and concludes on Tuesday at 12:15pm with lunch. For more information office@flbc.net or 406-752-6602

Pastor Leaving - What's Next?

A call committee navigates the process which culminates in identifying the person who will be "called" to serve as FLC's next pastor. FLC's by laws state that "When a pastoral vacancy occurs a Call Committee of six voting members shall be appointed by the Congregation Council." The council will use FLC demographics along with other criteria to select members to serve on the call committee from the list of those nominated. Selection of the call committee will occur in the weeks ahead - we are well on track under the initial guidance received from the Bishop. If you have any questions about this process please contact Ross Damrow or any current council member. See page 9.

UPDATE ON THE ENDOWMENT COMMITTEE, By John Trangmoe, Chair

Reorganization of Faith Lutheran Endowment

Lyn McKee and Carl Russ are the newest members to the committee after being chosen by election at the congregational annual meeting. They join Amber Richardson, Carol Mitchell and John Trangmoe on the five member committee.

This church endowment was created back in June 1991 and has remained relatively inactive all these years with only $5000 as the principal from which interest is achieved. This low total is a concern to the committee and their goal is to promote more awareness of the purpose and advantage of investing in an endowment.

The committee has reviewed the bylaws as created back in 1991 and feels there is a need for updating. Amber volunteered to work on this project with likely changes to be reviewed by the church council and voted by the congregation at a future date.

Questions or remarks about this endowment are welcomed and may be addressed to any of the members.

DEADLINE FOR NOMINATIONS IS APRIL 30TH

In Memory of Norma Nielsen

Norma Nielsen was reunited with her beloved Walt when she took Jesus' hand and recently walked into heaven. A few hours after her death, daughter Joy texted that she was sure they were already fishing. Norma and Walt were long time members of Faith. They loved people and everyone who knew them loved them. Wisconsin natives, they lived near Victor right above the Bitterroot River. And how they loved that river! Fishing was their passion and they did plenty of it. When their family celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with a party at Faith, Norma and Walt arrived in their fishing gear, with an excuse they were on their way as soon as it was over. (They changed into party gear of course before everyone arrived).

Norma had a special heart for elderly folks. And she put that heart into action at Faith. Younger than other members of Mary Martha Circle, she chose that one so she could provide transportation to some who could no longer drive. One of those ladies was Martha Poppie, mother of Martha Lewis, whose house Faith now owns. For many years Norma was Martha's 'wheels'. She saw to it that she provided those wheels for any needs Martha might have.

In keeping with that love, she regularly attended and served at the monthly birthday party at Valley View Estates where she helped with the singing and serving as well as bringing folks from their rooms to attend.

Norma actively served with the quilters as well. She and Edna Cash worked behind the scenes making sure everything was in readiness when the others arrived on 'Love Days', and she was a lefse expert. For some of the earlier dinners here, she opened her home for lefse making, and she and Walt made a lot of it together as well.

After a few 'heart' scares and some surgery for Walt, the Niensens decided it was time to go 'home' to Chetek Wisconsin. Their children were scattered, Joy in Nashville, Barb in Minnesota and Kim on the West coast. Norma still had a sister and some brothers in Chetek and they wouldn't be alone there. So with heavy hearts, we bid them farewell, rejoicing that they could do what was best for them. After Walt's death, Norma remained in their home until a couple of years ago when she needed some assistance. We thank God for their sojourn here and all that they gave to Faith and to each of us. Clairice Brady
